

Dolores P. Bulluck

December 8, 1944 - October 10, 2019

Dolores Patricia Bulluck, affectionately known as "Dee" was born in Chester Hospital to the parents of Harold and Gloria Rothwell. Dolores is the third of nine children. She was a happy, friendly child who grew up on the ten-hundred block of West 9th Street until the family moved to 5th Street.

Dolores received her formal education in the Chester School district where she was a student at Lincoln and Franklin Schools. She graduated from Chester High School, The Mighty class of 1962. She was a member of the Drama Society & Student Council. Then, she attended Sleepers Business School earning her degree. Following that, she worked many years for the Greater Chester Movement where she was a Secretary. She worked for Phoenix Steel where she excelled in administration as a Bookkeeper until the business subsided. Dolores also was a dedicated employee of Value City Department Store, where she held many titles including Customer Service Representative / Supervisor and anything else she put her hands on. Finally, Dolores worked at MAC / First Data as an Analyst.

As a child, she travelled as a ballet and tap dancer, with her parents, where she developed her passion for dance. She attended Asbury AME Church where she was a member of Sunday School, YPD and choir. She was also the church secretary during the pastorate of Rev. Faush for many years.

Dolores met and married Zeb Bulluck (deceased) and from this union they had two children, June Bulluck Hurst and Keith Bulluck. She also assisted with raising her granddaughter, Lakeisha Bulluck.

Dolores enjoyed being around her family and friends. She was witty, competitive and loveable. She had a huge heart and an infectious smile, all of which made her so beautiful. Dolores was a very classy woman and she enjoyed beautiful things. Dolores kept her mind sharp by doing crossword puzzles, Sudoku and playing Candy Crush. She loved spending her downtime going to the casino and watching her favorite shows which was anything related to true crime, fashion, cooking and surprisingly, western movies. Eight years ago, she met the love of her life, her fiancé, Nathaniel Garnett. He made her very happy and they were inseparable. There was not a time when you would find one without the other. They were such a cute couple and loved doing everything together. She loved Nate, as she affectionately called him. Dolores was predeceased by parents Harold H. Rothwell, Sr. and Gloria S. Rothwell; and her siblings Michael, Harold "Brother", Rodney and Brian Rothwell. She leaves to cherish her memory her siblings: Barbara Dennis, LeRoy Rothwell (Joyce, deceased), Vernon Rothwell (Darlene) Dennis Rothwell (Pamela), and sister-in-law, Gretchen Rothwell; her children: June Bulluck Hurst and Keith Bulluck (Angie); her grandchildren: Keith Bulluck, Jr., Lakeisha Bulluck and Keith Bulluck, III; and a host of great grandchildren.
