Her life journey tells a story of incredible determination, perseverance, success, and her enormous love for life, singing, traveling, and people. She was full of life, laughter, comedy, and fun. She had an appreciation for music and loved to sing. She didn’t sing, she “sang”!!! She was definitely blessed with the “Gift of Voice”.

“ I will never forget the laughter that Sheila and I shared. Our many conversations about family, Swarthmore, Gospel Choir, her friends, alumni, and life itself were colorful and belly-deep. I will miss her voice and the special way she referred to me as "Ville," her daughter. Life is simply too short; there simply is never enough time to hold dear to people as sweet and compassionate as Sheila. She loved us deeply. I'll miss you, Sheila.
